Horseshoes Found Under Eanes Building

TDP 10/24/1984

HORSESHOES WERE FOUND by Daniel Konarik, pictured here, and Dennis Repa underneath the Eanes Building last week. According to Margaret Massey, Taylor Main Street manager, the Eanes Building was built in 1912 and she said the 1905 city directory shows the location as a livery stable. Konarik and Repa were laying a sewer line when they found the horseshoes. The building was bought by Lester Jacobson earlier this year and is undergoing renovation. (Staff photo by Jim Phillips)
